CAMPUS EATS

CUSTOMER TERMS & CONDITIONS

Campus-only food ordering for delivery, dine-in and pickup

For students, faculty, staff and visitors at MIT ADT University
Participating cafés, messes, food outlets and restaurants located within the campus only.

Platform operator	Jafar Tamboli
Support contact	9699357027
Website / app	https://campus-eats-2znk.onrender.com/index.html

Important: This is a practical draft for review, not legal advice. Before publishing, the operator should complete the placeholders and have the document reviewed for the actual business model, payment flow, campus permissions and applicable Indian law. These terms do not replace any mandatory consumer rights.

Version 1.0 | Customer-facing policy draft

At a glance

These terms explain how Campus Eats works, what customers can expect, and what customers need to do when placing campus food orders.

- Campus Eats is intended for orders from participating food outlets physically located inside the MIT ADT Universitycampus.
- Customers may select delivery, dine-in or pickup where the relevant outlet supports that option.
- The food outlet prepares and supplies the food. Campus Eats provides the ordering interface and relatedcoordination, as described in these terms.
- Menu items, prices, preparation times, availability, delivery coverage and outlet hours can change.
- Cancellation, refund and complaint outcomes depend on the order status and the reason for the request, subject toapplicable law.
- Customers should review item details and disclose relevant allergy or dietary concerns directly to the outlet beforeordering.

Contents

1. Acceptance and eligibility
2. Definitions and platform role
3. Account registration and security
4. Campus-only service area and availability
5. Menus, prices, taxes and offers
6. Placing and accepting an order

7. Delivery orders
8. Pickup orders
9. Dine-in orders
10. Payments, cancellations and refunds
11. Food quality, allergies and dietary information
12. Customer responsibilities and prohibited conduct
13. Outages, delays and order changes
14. Complaints and customer support
15. Privacy and communications
16. Intellectual property
17. Disclaimers and limitation of liability
18. Indemnity
19. Suspension and termination
20. Changes to these terms
21. Governing law and disputes
22. Contact and notices

Appendix A. Order issue checklist

Appendix B. Publication checklist for the operator

1. Acceptance and eligibility

1.1 By accessing or using Campus Eats, creating an account, browsing participating outlets, or placing an order, you agree to these Customer Terms and Conditions and any policies clearly presented to you at checkout. If you do not agree, do not use the platform.

1.2 Campus Eats is designed for students, faculty, staff and other visitors who are permitted to access the MIT ADT University campus. You must provide accurate information and comply with applicable campus rules.

1.3 If you are under the age of 18, use the platform only with the involvement or permission of a parent or legal guardian where required by law. Do not make purchases you are not legally permitted to make.

1.4 These terms apply to customer use of Campus Eats. A participating outlet may also have its own lawful policies for food preparation, dine-in seating, pickup, service hours and outlet conduct. Where policies conflict, mandatory legal rights prevail.

2. Definitions and platform role

2.1 “Campus Eats”, “we”, “us” or “our” means the operator identified on the first page. “Customer”, “you” or “your” means any person using the platform to browse or place an order. “Outlet” means a participating café, mess, food stall, restaurant or other food vendor located within the campus.

2.2 “Platform” means the Campus Eats website, application or other digital ordering interface. “Order” means a request submitted by a customer for food or beverages using the platform.

2.3 Campus Eats facilitates discovery and ordering between customers and participating outlets. Unless the checkout screen expressly states otherwise, the outlet is responsible for preparing, packing and supplying the food, and for the accuracy of its menu, ingredient, allergen and pricing information. Campus Eats may coordinate order status, pickup or delivery workflows.

2.4 Campus Eats is not a university authority or an official MIT ADT University service unless the operator has expressly obtained and published that authorization. Mention of the campus identifies the service area and does not, by itself, imply university ownership, endorsement or agency.

2.5 Delivery may be fulfilled by outlet staff, Campus Eats personnel or another authorized delivery person, depending on the order and the service displayed at checkout. The applicable fulfillment method and charges should be shown before the customer confirms the order.

3. Account registration and security

3.1 You may need an account to place or track an order. Provide truthful, current information, including your name and contact details, and any campus location information needed to fulfill the order.

3.2 You are responsible for keeping login credentials and one-time passwords confidential and for activity carried out through your account. Notify Campus Eats promptly if you suspect unauthorized access.

3.3 Do not create an account using another person's identity or contact information without authorization, or maintain multiple accounts to misuse offers, evade restrictions or interfere with the service.

3.4 Campus Eats may request reasonable verification to protect customers, outlets and the campus community. We may restrict or suspend an account where there is a reasonable concern about fraud, abuse, security or a breach of these terms, subject to applicable law.

4. Campus-only service area and availability

4.1 Campus Eats is intended only for participating outlets located within the MIT ADT University campus. It does not promise service from off-campus restaurants or delivery to locations outside the service area.

4.2 Delivery is available only to campus locations supported by the platform and the outlet at the time of ordering. Some buildings, hostels, academic areas or restricted-access zones may be unavailable for delivery.

4.3 An outlet, menu item or order mode may be unavailable due to opening hours, stock, staffing, campus restrictions, weather, safety concerns, high demand, maintenance or other operational conditions.

4.4 Displayed opening hours and estimated times are indicative and may change. An outlet may stop accepting orders before its listed closing time.

4.5 Customers and delivery personnel must follow campus access, security, traffic, hygiene and safety rules. No delivery person is required to enter a restricted area or bypass security instructions.

5. Menus, prices, taxes and offers

5.1 Menus, photographs, descriptions, portion sizes, ingredients, prices and availability are provided by the outlet or otherwise displayed for customer information. Images are illustrative unless expressly stated otherwise.

5.2 Prices and applicable taxes, packaging charges, platform fees, delivery charges and other mandatory charges will be displayed before order confirmation where applicable. Review the final order summary before paying.

5.3 If a displayed price or item detail is clearly incorrect, Campus Eats or the outlet may contact you to confirm a correction or cancel the affected order and arrange any applicable refund. We will not knowingly charge a different amount without informing you, except where a lawful adjustment or payment-provider process applies.

5.4 Offers, coupons and discounts may have eligibility requirements, validity periods, usage limits, outlet restrictions or minimum order values. They cannot be exchanged for cash and may not be combined unless the offer says otherwise.

5.5 Campus Eats or an outlet may correct menu errors, update prices and discontinue items prospectively. Changes do not automatically alter an order already accepted, except where a correction, substitution or cancellation is agreed with the customer or otherwise permitted by law.

6. Placing and accepting an order

6.1 Before submitting an order, check the selected outlet, items, quantities, customizations, fulfillment mode, delivery or pickup location, expected time, charges and payment method.

6.2 A screen message confirming that an order was submitted or received may only confirm receipt of the request. The order is accepted when the platform or outlet provides an acceptance or confirmation status, as applicable.

6.3 The outlet may decline or cancel an order for reasons such as item unavailability, closure, payment failure, a suspected fraudulent order, an incorrect listing or an operational or safety issue. If payment has been collected, any refund due will be processed under Section 10.

6.4 Do not submit duplicate orders to correct a mistake. Contact support promptly. A submitted order may already be in preparation and may not be cancellable without a charge where lawful and clearly disclosed.

6.5 Special instructions are requests, not guarantees. The outlet may be unable to accommodate unusual modifications, substitutions or preparation requests.

7. Delivery orders

7.1 Delivery is available only where offered for the selected outlet and destination. Enter a specific, accurate campus location and a reachable phone number. Include useful directions without sharing unnecessary personal information.

7.2 Delivery times are estimates, not guaranteed appointment times. Preparation time, queues, weather, campus access, security checks, incorrect directions and other circumstances may cause delays.

7.3 Please remain reachable and be available at the delivery point. If the customer cannot be contacted, provides an inaccurate location, is unavailable at the agreed handover point or refuses the order without a valid reason, the order may be marked as attempted or undeliverable. Any charge or refund will depend on the circumstances, the disclosed policy and applicable law.

7.4 For safety and campus security, a delivery person may ask you to meet at a nearby permitted handover point. They must not be asked to enter restricted areas, violate traffic rules or perform unsafe actions.

7.5 Inspect the package at handover where reasonably possible. Report missing items, damage, spills, wrong items or apparent tampering as soon as possible through the platform or support contact. Do not consume food that appears unsafe or tampered with.

7.6 Do not ask a delivery person to carry prohibited items, make unauthorized campus entries or perform unrelated personal tasks.

8. Pickup orders

8.1 For pickup, collect the order from the outlet or designated collection point shown in the order confirmation. Follow the outlet's collection instructions and campus rules.

8.2 Pickup-ready times are estimates. Wait for a ready-for-pickup notification where available, and show the order number or other reasonable proof of order.

8.3 Collect the order within a reasonable time after it is marked ready. If you arrive late, food quality and temperature may be affected. If an order remains uncollected, the outlet may dispose of it for food-safety reasons; any refund will be assessed under Section 10 and applicable law.

8.4 If another person collects your order, you are responsible for sharing the collection details securely. The outlet may refuse handover if it reasonably suspects fraud or cannot verify the order.

9. Dine-in orders

9.1 Dine-in ordering is available only at outlets that display that option. An order confirmation does not reserve a table or guarantee seating unless a separate reservation confirmation expressly says so.

9.2 Follow the outlet's seating, queueing, service, cleanliness and closing-time instructions. Seating may be limited and may be subject to availability.

9.3 Check whether the order is for table service, counter collection or another dine-in workflow. If the platform provides a table number or location field, enter it accurately.

9.4 Do not occupy reserved or restricted seating, disrupt other customers, damage property or disregard reasonable staff instructions. The outlet may ask a customer to leave for disruptive, unsafe or unlawful conduct.

9.5 If you place a dine-in order and leave before receiving it, contact the outlet or support immediately. Cancellation or refund eligibility depends on the order's preparation status, the reason and applicable law.

10. Payments, cancellations and refunds

10.1 Payments

Payment methods available at checkout may include online payment, card, UPI, wallet or cash/on-site payment, depending on the platform and outlet. Only methods displayed for that order are available. Online payments are processed by the relevant payment provider and may be subject to that provider's terms.

Do not share your payment PIN, password or one-time password with Campus Eats, an outlet or a delivery person. Campus Eats will not ask you to disclose a payment PIN to resolve an order issue.

10.2 Cancellation by the customer

You may request cancellation using the available in-app option or by contacting support. Cancellation may be possible before the outlet accepts or begins preparing the order. Once preparation has started, cancellation may be restricted because food is prepared for immediate consumption. Any non-refundable amount or cancellation fee must be lawful and clearly disclosed before purchase.

10.3 Cancellation by Campus Eats or an outlet

An order may be cancelled if an outlet closes unexpectedly, an item is unavailable, payment fails, fulfillment is not possible, a material listing error occurs, a safety concern arises or another reasonable operational issue prevents completion. If you paid for an order that is cancelled and no amount is properly due, the applicable amount will be refunded.

10.4 Refund eligibility

Refunds may be considered for a cancelled order, duplicate charge, failed payment where funds were debited, materially missing or incorrect items, non-delivery, or food that is damaged or appears unsafe. Each report will be assessed on its facts. Photos, order details or other reasonable evidence may be requested, but this does not remove any statutory rights.

A change of mind, late arrival for pickup, an incorrect customer-provided address, inability to contact the customer or a complaint made after substantial consumption may affect the outcome, but does not automatically override rights available under applicable law.

10.5 Refund method and timing

Approved refunds will generally be sent to the original payment method where practicable. The time taken for funds to appear depends on the payment provider and bank. If a payment is pending or has not settled, the amount may be reversed rather than separately refunded. Campus Eats can provide available transaction details but cannot control a bank's processing time.

10.6 How to request a refund

Contact [insert support email/phone] and provide the order number, date and time, a short description of the issue, and supporting evidence if available. Report urgent food-safety concerns immediately. Do not send full card numbers, payment PINs, passwords or one-time passwords.

10.7 No waiver of rights

Nothing in this section excludes or limits any refund, replacement, compensation or other remedy that must be provided under applicable consumer-protection law.

11. Food quality, allergies and dietary information

11.1 The outlet is responsible for food preparation, hygiene, packaging, ingredients and the accuracy of allergen and dietary information it provides. Campus Eats may display this information but cannot independently verify every recipe or preparation process.

11.2 If you have a food allergy, intolerance or serious dietary restriction, contact the outlet directly before placing the order and confirm whether cross-contact can be avoided. Do not rely solely on icons, filters, labels or automated descriptions.

11.3 “Vegetarian”, “vegan”, “Jain”, “gluten-free”, “nut-free”, “halal” or similar labels should be treated as information supplied by the outlet, not a guarantee from Campus Eats unless expressly verified and stated.

11.4 Food may contain or come into contact with allergens even where they are not intentional ingredients. If you are uncertain about a dish or its preparation, do not order or consume it until you have received satisfactory information.

11.5 Follow reasonable food-handling instructions. Once food has been handed over, Campus Eats cannot control how it is stored, transported or consumed. This does not remove responsibility for a defect or issue that existed before handover.

12. Customer responsibilities and prohibited conduct

You agree to use Campus Eats lawfully and respectfully. You must not:

- provide false identity, contact, payment or location information, or impersonate another person;
- use the platform for fraud, unauthorized payment activity, harassment, threats, discrimination or any unlawfulpurpose;

- attempt to access another customer's account, an outlet dashboard, administrative functions or non-public datawithout authorization;
- interfere with the platform, bypass security controls, introduce malicious code, scrape data in breach of applicableterms, or overload the service;
- abuse offers, manipulate reviews, submit knowingly false complaints or make repeated fraudulent refund claims;
- misuse customer or outlet contact details, or share another person's personal information without a lawful basis;
- ask any person to breach campus rules, enter restricted areas or carry unlawful or dangerous items;
- engage in abusive, threatening or unsafe behaviour toward outlet staff, delivery personnel, other customers orcampus personnel.

You must pay valid charges for orders you place and cooperate reasonably with the outlet and support team to resolve order issues. You remain responsible for your conduct on campus.

13. Outages, delays and order changes

13.1 Campus Eats may occasionally be unavailable due to maintenance, software defects, connectivity problems, power interruptions, payment-provider failures or events outside reasonable control.

13.2 We may update, suspend or discontinue a feature, outlet listing or ordering mode where reasonably necessary. We will take reasonable steps to communicate material changes where practical.

13.3 If an order cannot be fulfilled after payment, Campus Eats or the outlet will communicate the available options where reasonably possible, such as cancellation and refund or a customer-approved alternative. An alternative item or price change should not be imposed without your agreement.

13.4 Events beyond reasonable control, including severe weather, public-safety directions, campus closures, strikes, emergencies or infrastructure outages, may affect service. This section does not excuse obligations that cannot lawfully be excluded.

14. Complaints and customer support

14.1 For order-related concerns, contact [insert support email/phone] and include your order number, outlet, date/time and a clear description of the issue.

14.2 For a missing, wrong, damaged or delayed order, report the issue as soon as reasonably possible so that the relevant records can be checked. For an immediate safety risk or suspected food contamination, stop consuming the food and report it promptly.

14.3 Campus Eats may coordinate with the outlet or payment provider to investigate. We may ask for reasonable information to verify the order and prevent fraud.

14.4 If you are not satisfied with the initial response, you may request escalation to [insert grievance/contact person and process]. Nothing in this process prevents you from approaching an appropriate consumer authority or other forum available under law.

15. Privacy and communications

15.1 Campus Eats should collect and use only the personal information reasonably needed to operate accounts, process orders and payments, communicate order updates, provide support, prevent fraud, maintain records and meet legal obligations.

15.2 Depending on the workflow, information may include your name, phone number, email, order history, selected campus delivery location, account identifiers, payment status and support messages. Full payment credentials should be handled by the payment provider and should not be stored by Campus Eats unless lawfully required and appropriately secured.

15.3 Order information may be shared with the selected outlet, authorized delivery personnel, payment processors, hosting or technology providers, and authorities where legally required, to the extent necessary for the stated purpose.

15.4 Access to order information should be limited to people who need it to fulfill orders, provide support, secure the platform or comply with law. Customers should not include sensitive personal information in delivery instructions.

15.5 Operational messages such as order confirmations, status alerts and support replies may be sent by SMS, email, phone or in-app notification. Marketing communications, where used, should be handled according to applicable consent and opt-out requirements.

15.6 The operator should publish a separate Privacy Policy explaining data collected, purposes, retention, security, user rights, contact details and how to submit a privacy request. Privacy questions can be sent to [insert privacy contact].

15.7 The operator must configure and operate the platform in accordance with applicable data-protection, cybersecurity and consumer laws. This section is a summary and does not replace the Privacy Policy.

16. Intellectual property

16.1 The Campus Eats name, branding, interface, software, text and other platform materials may be protected by intellectual-property laws. Except as permitted by law, you may not copy, modify, distribute, reverse engineer or commercially exploit platform materials without prior written permission.

16.2 Outlet names, logos, menu descriptions and photographs may belong to the relevant outlets or other rights holders. Their appearance on Campus Eats does not transfer ownership to customers or the operator.

16.3 You may not upload content, reviews or images that are unlawful, defamatory, deceptive, infringing, abusive or that disclose another person's private information. The operator may remove such content where reasonably justified.

17. Disclaimers and limitation of liability

17.1 Campus Eats aims to provide useful and accurate listings and reliable ordering functionality, but does not guarantee uninterrupted or error-free operation, continuous availability of every outlet or item, or that estimated preparation and delivery times will always be met.

17.2 Food preparation, ingredients, allergen controls, packaging and fulfillment are primarily managed by the outlet or the identified fulfillment provider. Campus Eats will take reasonable steps within its role to route complaints and help resolve issues.

17.3 To the extent permitted by law, Campus Eats is not responsible for indirect or consequential losses arising from temporary service interruptions, inaccurate customer-provided information or conduct of third parties beyond its reasonable control. This clause does not exclude liability for fraud, wilful misconduct, gross negligence where exclusion is prohibited, or any liability that cannot legally be limited.

17.4 Nothing in these terms excludes or limits mandatory consumer rights, statutory remedies, or liability that applicable law does not permit to be excluded or limited. Any limitation must be interpreted only to the extent lawful.

18. Indemnity

To the extent permitted by law, you agree to be responsible for losses, claims or reasonable costs directly arising from your unlawful use of Campus Eats, fraud, intentional misuse, infringement of another person's rights or material breach of these terms. This clause does not require you to indemnify the operator for the operator's own unlawful conduct or for liability that cannot legally be shifted to you.

19. Suspension and termination

19.1 You may stop using Campus Eats at any time. If account deletion is available, you may use that function or contact [insert support/privacy contact]. Certain order, payment, fraud-prevention or legally required records may need to be retained for a lawful period.

19.2 Campus Eats may suspend or restrict access where reasonably necessary to address suspected fraud, security risks, abuse, legal requirements or a material breach of these terms. Where appropriate and lawful, we will provide notice and an opportunity to resolve the issue.

19.3 Suspension does not cancel payment obligations for valid completed orders or remove rights to a refund or other remedy under applicable law.

20. Changes to these terms

20.1 The operator may update these terms to reflect changes in the service, outlet workflows, law or security requirements. The current version should be published in the platform with its effective date.

20.2 Material changes should be communicated through an appropriate channel where required by law. Changes will apply prospectively from the stated effective date unless applicable law permits otherwise.

20.3 If you continue using Campus Eats after revised terms take effect, your future use will be subject to the revised terms to the extent permitted by law. If you disagree, stop using the platform.

21. Governing law and disputes

21.1 These terms are intended to be governed by the laws of India, subject to mandatory consumer-protection rules and any other applicable law.

21.2 The parties should first try to resolve disputes through the customer-support and escalation process in Section 14. This does not prevent a customer from pursuing statutory remedies or approaching a competent authority or forum.

21.3 Any reference to courts or jurisdiction must not be interpreted to deprive a consumer of a forum or remedy available under mandatory law. Before publication, the operator should obtain legal advice on any jurisdiction-specific wording.

22. Contact and notices

For questions about these terms, order issues or formal notices, contact:

Operator	[Insert legal name]
Support email	[Insert support email]
Phone	[Insert support phone, if available]
Postal address	[Insert business/contact address, if applicable]
Grievance contact	[Insert name/designation and contact, if applicable]

Appendix A. Order issue checklist

To help resolve a problem efficiently, share only the information relevant to the order:

- Order number and order date/time
- Selected outlet and fulfillment mode (delivery, pickup or dine-in)
- A brief description of what happened
- Which item(s) are affected and whether the order was received
- A photo of the packaging or item, if relevant and safe to take
- Payment reference or transaction status, with sensitive credentials removed

- A safe way to contact you for follow-up

Never share: payment PINs, passwords, one-time passwords, full card details or another person's private information.

Appendix B. Publication checklist for the operator

Complete this checklist before making these terms live. The document intentionally uses placeholders where the actual operator or business process was not provided.

- Replace every bracketed placeholder, including effective date, legal operator name, support details, URL andgrievance/privacy contacts.
- Confirm whether Campus Eats is operated by MIT ADT University, a student team, a registered business or anotherentity. Do not imply university endorsement unless formally authorized.
- Confirm which party is the seller/merchant of record, who collects payment, who issues invoices, and who isresponsible for taxes and refunds.
- Set and disclose the exact cancellation cut-offs, refund workflow, expected refund processing times, uncollectedpickup policy and any lawful cancellation charges.
- Document whether delivery is handled by outlets, Campus Eats or third parties; define campus handover points andsafety procedures.
- Publish a separate Privacy Policy and implement suitable data access controls, retention limits, security measuresand customer-request handling.
- Confirm applicable food-safety and licensing responsibilities for participating outlets and how allergen, dietary andfood-safety complaints are escalated.
- Review the terms with an India-qualified lawyer and confirm compliance with applicable consumer-protection,e-commerce, food-safety, payment and data-protection requirements.
- Obtain any campus permissions needed for branding, outlet participation, delivery access and use of MIT ADTUniversity name or marks.
- Make the terms available before checkout and retain the version accepted by each customer where technically andlegally appropriate.

End of Customer Terms & Conditions